FIFTEEN CENTS

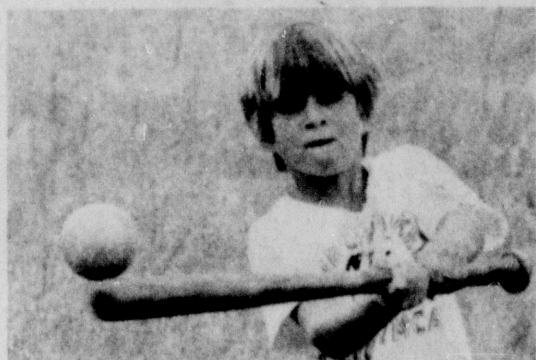

Y Camp Experience

A familiar sight to Planonites is the YMCA bus loaded with Y summer day campers. Summer camp is in full swing, with two completed sessions and the third session now winding up its second week. The girls day camp is also into its second week of the second session.

Each day of the camp begins with bus pick-up at the schools and then to the Y pool for swim lessons. After that, it's on to camp, where counselors relate to a group of 8-10 children in an out-of-doors setting, teaching them social adjustment through small group experiences, stimulation of creative experience, and learning to live with others in a group setting. Each counselor and group builds a fort during each session.

Features of Camp Cherokee include horseback riding, boating trips on Lake Texoma, tours and trips to interesting places, camp cooking on Hobo Day, BB rifle range, archery fishing, and overnight camping one night in each session.

Camp Cherokee is offered to boys and girls from grades two through six, and both members and non-members may participate in this summer activity. Two more sessions are being held for boys: July 21-Aug. 1 and Aug. 4-15 and one more session is being held for girls, July 21-Aug. 1. This session is being held as a co-ed camp with boys and girls both attending, and there are still some openings in this session. For more information, call 424-8567.

Wreck Sites Named

Park and K Leads List As Dangerous Intersection

More accidents were reported at the intersection of Park Blvd. and K Ave. than at any other location last month, says Traffic Safety Coordinator Tom Walton.

Six accidents occurred at that location during June, he said. Another dangerous location for the same period was the west frontage road of US 75 where five accidents were reported.

However, during the first six months of the year the most dangerous sites in Plano were the intersection of SH 289 and FM 544 and the east frontage road of US 75 at FM 544. The frontage road was the scene of 18 accidents while nine property damage and five injury accidents were reported at the SH 289-FM 544 intersection.

Other dangerous locations for the first part of the year include: K Ave. at 18th St., 11 property, three injury accidents; FM 544 at west frontage road of US 75, 13 property damage, two injury accidents; FM 544 at Park Blvd., 13 property damage, one injury accidents; FM 544 at Custer, 13 property damage accidents; 15th St. at K Ave., eight property damage, two injury accidents; FM 544 at Shiloh Rd., one property damage, five injury accidents; Dallas North Pkwy. at K Ave., six property damage and two injury accidents; and 18th St. at Jupiter Rd., three property damage accidents. Also making the list of dangerous accident sites in June were the Custer-FM 544 intersection with four property damage accidents, the K Ave.-18th St. intersection with three property damage accidents, the Wilson Dr.-FM 544 intersection with one property damage and one injury accidents and the K Ave.-Dallas North Pkwy. intersection with one injury accident.

Walton said two property damage accidents were also reported at the Jupiter Rd.-14th St. intersection. Preston Rd.-FM 544 intersection and Westwood Dr.-FM 544 intersection.

Permits Decline

For Construction

The first half of 1975 was a bad period for the local construction industry, figures indicate.

Building permits for single family residences declined 39 percent over the same period in 1974, according to Ralph Shick, building official.

He pointed out that 873 homes valued at $20,138,680 were constructed during the first six months of 1974 while only 628 houses valued at $14,798,972 have been built thus far this year.

June permits also declined 20.2 percent from last year and six percent from May. He said 99 single family homes were built in June compared to 105 in May and 119 in June of 1974. June homes were valued at $2,395,132.

Shick said his department also issued two duplex ($67,000), three retail ($236,000) and one office ($5,600) permits.

In June permits were also issued for additions to 18 single family residences, five retail establishments and one office.

During the first half of 1975, five duplex and 11 retail permits were issued (as in 1974); no industrial, no church and no hospital permits were issued (two, two, one in 1974); two school permits were issued (none in 1974) and five office permits were issued (six in 1974).

PFD Answers 88 Fire Calls

Plano firefighters answered 88 fire calls including 22 actual fires during June, according to Fire Marshal Bill Threet.

Five of those fires involved buildings which sustained an estimated $35,926.50 damages. Loss of contents was placed at $1,117 by Threet.

He said the department responded to three county fire calls, one mutual aid fire call, two grass fires, seven automobile fires and three false alarms.

Threet attributed the fires to the following causes: nine careless smoking or matches, nine trash or waste accumulation, four gas leaks (no fires), three wiring or major appliances, one electrical appliances or motors, one explosives or flammables, and one grease.

The department also answered 65 ambulance calls including seven from outside the city. Threet concluded.

Test For GED Set Saturday

The General Educational Development Test (GED) will be administered Saturday, July 12, at Wilson Middle School, 1001 Custer Rd., as part of the Plano Independent School District's Adult Education program.

The test will begin at 8 a.m., according to Adult Education supervisor Glenn Rush, and a $10 fee will be charged. To be eligible to take the test, a person must be at least 17 years old and be officially withdrawn from school for one calendar year.

Upon successful completion of the test, a certificate of high school equivalency (not a high school diploma) will be issued by the Texas Education Agency, according to Rush.

CIA Blamed by Hunt Brothers

LUBBOCK, Tex. (UPI) — The Central Intelligence Agency tried to gain an interest in the oil operations of the late billionaire H.L. Hunt and may have been involved in wiretap charges filed against two of Hunts' sons, according to court records.

These allegations were scheduled to be heard today during a pre-trial hearing for Nelson Bunker and W. Herbert Hunt, charged with hiring a private detective to wiretap the telephones of other prospective heirs to their father's fortune.

The Hunts are scheduled to stand trial on the charges Sept. 15.

According to an affidavit on file in the district clerk's office, the Hunt brothers claimed the CIA made "extensive attempts" to gain a foothold in their father's oil holdings. The papers did not say how the CIA tried to get an interest in Hunt's operations or why it wanted an interest.

One of four motions on file asked the court to "disclose any CIA activity that produced evidence related to the charges against the Hunts."

Several other motions have been filed by the Hunts' attorneys and these, along with the affidavit, were scheduled to be considered at today's hearing presided over by U.S. District Judge Halbert O. Woodward.

Attorneys also filed a motion asking Woodward to dismiss the charges against the Hunts on the grounds they were based on information obtained through illegal wiretaps.

A third motion asked for a "full and proper" search to determine if any of 22 federal agency conducted wiretap activities against the brothers.

The fourth motion said the charges amounted to "selective prosecution" by the federal government against the Hunt brothers.

The case was moved from Dallas on a change of venue by U.S. District Judge Sarah T. Hughes who was accused of and denied charges she made prejudicial comments against the brothers.

For Strike Settlement

ARLINGTON, Tex. (UPI) — Labor leaders must convince all unions to accept a wage offer by building contractors to end the most extensive shutdown in Texas construction history, according to a contractors spokesman.

"The offer is contingent on all of the unions we're negotiating with accepting it," said Harold Moore, general manager of the North Texas Contractors Association.

"It's up to the unions to convince their people and the other unions to accept it," Moore said. "The ball's in their court."

Representatives of 12 unions, representing 12,000 workers, tentatively accepted the wage offer Thursday, as reported in Thursday's edition of the Daily Star-Courier.

Seven independent unions, representing 2,000 workers, continued the 11-week-old strike.

There have been longer construction strikes in Texas, but the standstill in the Fort Worth-Dallas area has affected more jobs and construction contracts than any other dispute in state history, union and management officials said.

The multi-million-dollar Plano Senior High School is one of the major area construction sites hit by the strike, which is estimated to have cost some $50 to $60 million in delays. However, school officials say students will be able to use the school when the fall semester begins next month.

The strike also is estimated to have cost some 26,000 construction workers close to $6 million in lost wages.

The agreement provides a $2.40 an hour pay increase during a three year period with 11 multicraft unions receiving an immediate 40 cents an hour and five additional 40 cent increases every six months.

The tentative contract will pay millwrights, the highest paid craft, $9.16 an hour and the floorlayers, the lowest paid craft, will get $8.41 an hour, effective immediately.

Smuggling Charged

LAREDO, Tex. (UPI) — Customs officials charged a Chicago teen-ager and his juvenile companion Thursday with smuggling 20 pounds of brown heroin worth $10 million into the United States.

Adrian C. Herrera, 19, and a 15-year-old girl, both of Chicago, were arrested at the International bridge Tuesday night when Inspector Juan Meza and detective dog Toro discovered the cache in the couple's car.

Sentence Upheld

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — The 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals upheld the Texas habitual criminal life sentence law Thursday. The court affirmed without comment the life sentence of Richard F. Schultz, who was convicted of theft in Bexar County.

Suit Withdrawn

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — The Sierra Club, League of Women Voters and Citizens for a Better Environment withdrew a suit Thursday against the Texas Water Quality Board for allegedly inadequately protecting the Edwards Aquifer near San Antonio from pollution.

Exams Scheduled

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — The State Board of Nurse Examiners will hold license examinations July 15-16 for more than 3,000 recent graduates of nursing schools.

Police Riot Claimed

CUSTER, S. D. (UPI) — American Indian Movement leader Dennis Banks, on trial on charges stemming from the 1973 burning of the Custer Chamber of Commerce building, has told a jury the atmosphere in the state led to a "police riot."

Banks is charged with second-degree arson, third degree burglary, assault with a dangerous weapon without intent to kill and one count of riot while armed with a dangerous weapon.

The building was burned when a confrontation between police and AIM demonstrators grew into a riot.

In his opening statement Thursday, Banks said the 1973 incident occurred because "the state of South Dakota had created an atmosphere that led directly to a police riot."

Damages Awarded

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — David Carradine, star of the "Kung Fu" television series, was ordered Thursday to pay $20,000 damages to a woman who said he leaped naked from a car and demanded she take her clothes off.

In making the award, Judge Francis Marnell said "the court is of the opinion he (Carradine) was bombed out of his skull."

Anrick Marie Kilty said she was strolling in Laurel Canyon last year when Carradine drove up in a convertible and leaped naked from the auto. "grabbed me by my scarf and told me to take off my clothes."

Carradine, 37, denied her charges but did not appear at the trial. His lawyer said he was busy making a movie.

Pot Law Assailed

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Los Angeles Police Chief Ed Davis has reacted to passage of a state law reducing marijuana penalties. He predicts it will "double the number of heroin addicts within a year."

Davis said Thursday the law "will result in a 50 per cent increase in crime for the next two years," as marijuana smokers become heroin addicts and turn to crime to support their habits.

Ratification Needed

Work Continues

Despite the costliest and one of the longest strikes in Texas history, construction at the new E. W. Jackson Elementary School has continued, and the facility is expected to be ready for occupancy when school opens next month. The construction workers' strike is expected to be ended by this weekend, though, after 10 weeks of inactivity on area construction projects, such as the new Plano Senior High School. (Staff photo by Mike Newman).

Fifty Years Ago

'Monkey Trial' Recalled

By ELIZABETH A. HARRIS
DAYTON, Tenn. (UPI) — Fifty summers ago, thousands of people thronged the tree-shaded courthouse green to laugh at trained chimpanzees, hear sidewalk sermons, drink "monkey soda" and soak up the silver-tongued oratory of William Jennings Bryan and Clarence Darrow.

The issue was the creation of man and the arguments were Darwin's theory of evolution versus the Genesis account of creation in the Bible.

What began as a publicity stunt to put this sleepy farming town on the map ended as one of the world's most famous court trials.

It started one lazy July evening in 1925 in Robinson's Drug Store. A group of men were discussing the new "Monkey Law" passed by the Tennessee legislature and decided to try for a court test case in Dayton.

John Thomas Scopes, a young science teacher and coach, agreed to challenge the law on grounds it violated freedom of speech. The textbook Scopes used was in direct conflict with the new legislative act "making it unlawful for any teacher in any school supported in whole or part by the state to teach any theory that denies the story of the Divine creation of man as taught in the Bible."

The law, termed a "damn fool bill" by then Gov. Austin Peay, finally was repealed in 1967. State lawmakers replaced it in 1971 with a statute requiring all high school biology textbooks include the Genesis version in discussions of man's origin.

The instigators of the Scopes trial had planned a quick justice of the peace ruling that might go as far as the state supreme court.

What they did not expect were 40,000 people, some 200 reporters from as far away as London, or the show put on by three-time presidential candidate, former Secretary of State and world-renowned fundamentalist William Jennings Bryan in his defense of the law, and the truculent Clarence Darrow in his attack on it.

The trial began July 10 and ended July 21, 1925. Those who still remember it tell of the festive, carnival air of those three weeks in Dayton. Every huckster, fire, and brimstone preacher and souvenir seller for miles around converged on this mountain village.

Cloth monkeys were hastily sewn, stuffed and hawked on street corners. Trainers brought in mangy chimpanzees and flea-bitten gorillas to exhibit to the curious public for a nickel.

The most famous of the chimps was Joe Mindy, who sported a checkered vest, spats, snap brim fedora and played a piano and carried his golf clubs everywhere. "I'll never forget the day they brought him into the drug store to have a Coca-Cola," said Ed Pierce, 75, a soda jerk in Robinson's at the time. "The monkey was wearing a suit, just like a man's, and he sat up on the stool."

"I gave him a Coke and he drank it just as neat as you please. I broke the glass and threw it away afterwards. Later, we started calling Coke "monkey soda."

Darrow in his straw boater and fireman's suspenders, and Bryan with his ever-present palm fan and huge paunch, were longtime personal friends despite their differences on many subjects.

It was the first time the two had appeared in the same court, and the press flocked to Dayton to record the legal duel.

After all the hoopla and Darrow's famous interrogation of Bryan—who claimed belief in every aspect of Genesis from the serpent to the Ark—Scopes was found guilty July 21, 1925, of violating the "Monkey Law" and fined $100. The ruling later was overturned on appeal.

Namesake's Life Reviewed

Collin McKinney A Man of Many Talents

(Editor's Note: The following is the first in a series about the beginnings of Collin County and its pioneer residents. Collin McKinney, it is furnished by the Heritage Guild of the Collin County Historical Society in honor of the nation's Bicentennial celebration.)

Collin McKinney, leader in establishing the Christian Church in Texas, land surveyor, legislator, signer of the Texas Declaration of Independence and member of the committee of five who drafted it, was honored in the naming of both Collin County and McKinney, its county seat.

Of Scotch descent, Collin McKinney was born in New Jersey, April 17, 1766, one of ten children of Daniel (1740-1809) and Mercy Blatchley McKinney (1745-1825).

When Collin was still a small boy, his father and family moved to Lincoln County, Ky., and settled at McKinney's Station, near Crab Orchard. Since Kentucky was sparsely settled at this time, Collin in his early years, had many harrowing experiences with the numerous savage tribes of Indians in efforts to protect the white settlements against their raids.

His 1st Marriage

It was while there that Collin was married to Amy Moore on Feb. 10, 1794. Of this union four children were born: Ashley, Jimmy, Emeline, and Polly. Jimmy and Emeline died in infancy. Collin's wife, Amy, died May 6, 1804.

His second marriage was solemnized April 14, 1805, to Betsy Coleman. Of this union six children were born: William C. Amy and Margaret (twins), Anna C., Eliza S., and Younger Scott.

In 1818 Collin was engaged by Senator George Washington Campbell to manage his vast estate in Tennessee when the Senator was appointed Minister to Russia.

While there, Collin became acquainted with a number of prominent pioneers whose careers had made that state famous, among whom were Robert Sims, a distinguished hunter and Indian trader, and Francis Jones, a stalwart backwoodsman, then serving in the Congress of the United States. For a short time after Senator Campbell's return from Russia, Collin owned and operated a trading post at Elkton.

Moves Near Texas

In 1823 Collin moved, with several families, to a point six miles east of the present city of Texarkana, arriving there in September 15, 1824. In 1831 they moved farther west and settled on Hickman's Prairie on Red River, which was then Miller County, Ark., but is now Bowie County, Tex.

Prior to 1846 he moved his family to a point which is near the line of Collin and Grayson counties, where he was engaged in agricultural pursuits the remainder of his life. Collin died on Sept. 8, 1861, at the age of 95, and is buried in the marked grave in the cemetery at Van Alstyne.

When a new county was created from Fannin County in 1846 it was named Collin in his honor, and when the county seat was moved from Buckner to a point more nearly the geographical center of the county in 1848, he was still further honored by the naming of the county seat, McKinney, thus perpetuating the memory of his full name.

Political Leader

While at Hickman's Prairie, Collin was acknowledge the political helmsman for that section of the Red River District, which, at that time, covered a large portion of East and North Texas.

In 1835 he was elected a delegate from that section to the meeting at San Felipe. He was re-elected the next year to the convention meeting March 1 at Old Washington-on-the-Brazos.

He and four other members were appointed by Judge Richard Ellis to draft a declaration of separation from Mexico, which later became known as the Declaration of Independence, and which document bears his signature. Collin represented Red River District in the First, Second, and Fourth Congresses of the Republic.

Construction Begins

Construction has begun on a new 93,509 square foot office building for Safeco, one of the nation's largest insurance companies, in Hunt Properties Palisades Office Park in Richardson. Frank Hungerford, division manager for the large property and casualty insurance company, has announced.

The new Safeco building is being built on a 12-acre site, and represents a total investment of approximately $4 million.

"Palisades Office Park is part of a 6,000 acre, $530 million Palisades development Hunt Properties has underway in Richardson and Plano," commented William L. Hamm, manager of Hunt Properties. "The huge, comprehensively planned community is served by North Central Expressway and on the projected route for Outer Loop Nine.

"Estimated current value of the Palisades, including all residential, commercial and business park properties now completed or underway, is in excess of $160 million," Hamm added.

Richardson Mayor Raymond Noah recently led a group of area civic and business leaders in breaking ground for the new facility on the west side of Central Expressway just north of Campbell Rd. Among those joining Noah were Hungerford, and Bob Parker, who is Safeco regional vice president from the home office in Seattle, Wa.

Howard S. Parker of Iconoplex Inc. is the architect, and the C.H. Leavel Co. is the general contractor.

Parker has designed a two-story structure of architecturally finished precast concrete. The warm tone cement will have a finish of sparkling. Bridgeport aggregate. An interior atrium and other garden features will complement open landscape design in major work areas.

The building is scheduled for completion in May of 1976.

At UT-Dallas

Registration Slated

Second summer registration will be held Monday, July 14, at The University of Texas at Dallas.

It will be the last UTD registration for graduate students only.

On Sept. 4-6, UTD will register junior and senior undergraduate students for the first time, in more than 25 major fields.

State agency estimates indicate that UT Dallas will register 4,060 full-time equivalent students this fall. The actual count of students on the expanded, $50 million campus north of Campbell Rd. in Richardson will be higher than the FTE figure, which takes into account all part-time enrollments.

Graduate student enrollments are also expected to increase, on the basis of 194 new admissions made during June. In the past regular semester, graduate enrollment at UTD exceeded 850.

Nearly 600 graduate students registered for the first term of the summer session, the majority in double-term courses.

The second summer term ends Sat., August 23. Graduation will be informal, with no public program.

FATHER, FORGIVE ME

Here we see the prodigal son returning home. Even though he had spent his inheritance in riotous living his father was willing, even anxious, to forgive him. He had a feast prepared to welcome him home.

We find this story in Luke, Chapter 15. It illustrates the nature of Christian forgiveness. Just as the father forgave the prodigal so our Heavenly Father forgives even the most sinful among us. Attend your church this Sunday. Ask God for his merciful forgiveness.

YMCA Baseball Finals

Plano YMCA baseball playoffs were held this week. In the Third and Fourth Grade Division, the Christie-Davis Vikings beat the Sigler Yankees 17-16 in a tight game which indirectly gave Mendenhall the division championship. A large crowd attended the game, played at Wilson Junior High School diamond in West Plano. (Staff photos by Mike Newman.)

Reds Ramble on . . . With a Little Help

By FRED DOWN
UPI Sports Writer

The Cincinnati Reds are "long gone" in the National League's Western Division race and the Pittsburgh Pirates aren't far behind that situation in the Eastern Division.

The Pirates benefitted both themselves and the Reds Thursday night when they defeated the Los Angeles Dodgers 4-1 as Willie Stargell drove in three runs with a single and the 361st homer of his career.

The victory moved the Pirates six games ahead of the Philadelphia Phillies in the East and also enabled the idle Reds to open up a 10-game gap over the Dodgers in the West.

The National League is now faced with the most lopsided races since the divisional system was inaugurated in 1969.

Stargell singled in the tie-breaking run for the Pirates in the sixth inning and hit a two-run homer in the eighth.

Jerry Reuss allowed five hits in eight innings and won his 10th game with the relief help of Dave Giusti. Burt Hooton suffered the loss for the Dodgers.

Rangers Lose in 9th

BOSTON (UPI) — For the third straight game, the Boston Red Sox saved the best for last.

And for the fourth straight game, the first place Red Sox came away with a victory — the latest an 8-7 heart-stopper Thursday night over the Texas Rangers.

Boston, now 2 1/2 games ahead of Milwaukee and three in front of New York in the American League East, chugged into the ninth with a 7-4 lead. But Jeff Burroughs pulverized a Reggie Cleveland fastball with two outs and two on to tie the game with his 17th homer.

The Red Sox waited for two outs to win back the game and they performed the deed off nemesis Gaylord Perry. The balding right hander, who had beaten Boston 13 consecutive times since entering the league in 1972, gave up an opposite field single to second baseman Denny Doyle.

Perry threw a high slider to next batter Cecil Cooper and the pitch broke off catcher Ron Pruitt's glove for a passed ball allowing Doyle to take second. Cooper then singled to left, scoring Doyle just ahead of Mike Hargrove's throw.

Earlier in the game, it was Fred Lynn who did it all. The rookie centerfielder, 7-9 since returning to the lineup Tuesday, knocked in four runs with a third inning single and a three run homer in the fourth.

Bill Lee, 10-6, chases Boston's fifth straight tonight against Bill Hands, 5-5.

Football Season Set

Plans have been finalized for the 1975 Plano Sports Authority football season.

PSA is expecting more than 1,000 boys to participate in football this fall, which is a 20 percent increase over 1974.

PSA will offer the football program to boys ages eight years through tenth graders of the Plano Independent School District.

The registration for football will begin August 8 and continue until August 23 for the Texas League, American League and National League. Registration will continue until September 6 for the Senior League.

Following is a description of each league:

Texas League - for all boys eight years old and those nine year olds that weigh under 70 lb.

American League - for all nine year olds weighing more than 70 lb. and those 10 and 11 year olds not drafted into the National League.

National League - All 12 year olds under the seventh grade and those 10 and 11 year olds drafted into the league.

Senior League - Junior High Division, for all seventh and eighth graders.

Senior League - Senior High Division, for all ninth and tenth graders.

Plano Sports Authority will play their games on Saturdays and only two workouts per week will be allowed for each team. The football season will end with the City Championships on Nov. 15.

For more information, contact the PSA Office at 424-KIDS.

PSA Needs Persons

Plano Sports Authority is looking for football coaches.

Because of an expected 20 percent increase in participation in its fall football program, PSA says they will need 20 percent more coaches this year.

Anyone wishing to be considered for a coaching position this fall should contact the PSA Office at 424-KIDS (424-5437). PSA will take the coaching applicant's name, phone number, address and league desired and will contact the applicant at a later time.

PSA is planning coaching clinics, first aid clinics and organizational meetings for the early portion of August.

PSA also needs persons for non-coaching positions. Assistant league directors are needed to administrate the program and persons are also needed for other positions.

Volunteers are needed to assist in the football registrations from August 8 through September 6. PSA says that one hour of work per day will help with the registration greatly.
